USE PARING KNIFE ON EXPENSES-HARDING

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—President Harding launched a drive today against what he termed the "dangerous tendency" of government departments to live beyond the means provided for them by congress and submit requests for deficiency appropriations to cover deficits. In identical letters to cabinet members the president called attention to the fact that calls for approximately $216,000,000 in deficiency appropriations are now pending and that "the estimated deficiencies will run very much beyond that sum."

The president said he was very sure that he can never fix ourselves firmly on a basis of economy until the departments are conducted within the provisions made by congress. "The full text of his letter follows: 'I am in receipt of a letter from Chairman Warren, of the senate committee on appropriations, calling my attention to the fact that estimates now before congress call for approximately $216,000,000 of deficiency appropriations and that the estimated deficiencies will run very much beyond that sum. I do not know of any more dangerous tendency in the administration of governmental departments and I am very sure that we can never fix ourselves firmly on a basis of economy until the departments are conducted within the provisions made by congress.'

"I wish you would call this matter to the attention of the various bureau chiefs so that a like situation may not be repeated in future."

In his letter to the president, Senator Warren gave the total of deficiency estimates now actually before congress as $215,591,288.

"There is no question," he wrote, "about estimates for strictly legal deficiencies submitted in accordance with the provisions of the law; but not all of these sums are of this character. I notice that some are for new work entirely and have no place whatsoever in deficiency bills."

"It would seem that heads of departments and government establishments and officers of the government charged with the responsibility of submission of estimates should be held to a strict accountability. Now that the war is over, there seems to be little excuse for the various departments and establishments not conducting their expenditures more nearly within their appropriations."

U. S. Thinks Allies Well Able To Pay Their Debt Of Ten Billion To This Country

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub Co.)
WASHINGTON, May 3.—The United States government considers the allied debt of ten billion dollars a just obligation of the allies and deems unacceptable the suggestion made by Germany that she take it over as part payment of reparations to France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium.

While the Washington government is vitally interested in the outcome of the reparations negotiations because of the far reaching effect that a settlement would have on the world's economic situation, the official viewpoint here is that the allies will be well able ultimately to pay their debts to the United States irrespective of the reparations money forthcoming from Germany to the allies. It is realized that a satisfactory settlement of the reparations controversy would assist the allies and strengthen their financial power to pay the United States but there is no disposition to regard the reparations situation as affecting the payment of the allies' debt to the United States. The government here regards the debt as something between the United States and the allies and as in no way dependent upon what sources of revenue the allies develop for the payment of any of their debts external or internal.

It became known today, incidentally, that former Premier Viviani on his recent trip to the United States took occasion to advise the American government of his opinion.

Harris Takes Blame For Bergdoll's Release

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The house committee investigating the escape of Grover C. Bergdoll, Philadelphia draft dodger, expected to obtain additional information today regarding Bergdoll's release from Fort Jay, N. Y., for the purpose of recovering gold he claimed he had buried in the West Virginia mountains. Samuel T. Ansell, former acting adjutant general of the army and one of Bergdoll's attorneys, had been asked to appear to inform the committee of his connection with the case.

Major General Harris, adjutant general of the army, who was the first witness to be heard, declared yesterday he alone was responsible for Bergdoll's release from the disciplinary barracks so he could recover the treasure he insisted he had hidden. General Harris said Mr. Ansell had appealed to him to let the prisoner out, assuring him that the draft dodger's buried gold story was true and that Bergdoll would be returned to Fort Jay as soon as he had reclaimed it.

General Harris mentioned the name of John W. Westcott, of New Jersey, as one of Bergdoll's attorneys. General Harris said he had seen correspondence between Mr. Westcott and former Secretary Baker in reference to Bergdoll's appeal from the five year prison term imposed on the draft dodger.

Mr. Westcott, according to General Harris, wanted the secretary to give the case his personal consideration.

WILL USE ONLY WHITE TROOPS

FRENCH MILITARY HEADQUARTERS, MAYENCE, May 3.—The plans for the occupation of the Ruhr valley elaborated by the French generals staff provide for the exclusive use of white troops. It was announced here today.

Hughes' Note Delivered To Germany

BERLIN, May 3.—The note of Secretary of State Hughes to the German government, replying to the German counter proposals on reparations, was delivered to Dr. Simons, the foreign minister, at 11:30 o'clock this morning by Loring Dresel, the American commissioner here.

London, May 3.—The allied supreme council today decided to take no naval action against Germany without consulting the United States.

This was agreed to after a rather full discussion of the council members with Admiral Grasset, of France, regarding plans for naval pressure upon Germany.

The committee of experts, at this morning's session, reported on the plan worked out by Germany for the payment of reparations and the council will consider it this afternoon. Occupation of the Ruhr coal basin in the event such action should become necessary was considered by the council with the military representatives of the allies.

Four Suggestions Examined

Four suggestions were examined by the council this morning, namely, blockade of the German ports, a partial blockade, a demonstration without a blockade, and seizure of the customs receipts in German ports.

Must Consider American Interests

Mr. Lloyd George, the British prime minister; M. Briand, the French premier; Count Storace, the Italian foreign minister, and M. Jaspard, the Belgian foreign minister, were agreed that American susceptibilities must be carefully considered. The British and French governments will continue to examine means for a naval action after final adjournment of the council, for the purpose of eventual action if occupation of the Ruhr should be insufficient.

Agree To Invite U. S.

The representatives of the four governments are agreed that the United States must be invited to send a representative to the supreme council, the council of ambassadors meeting regularly in Paris, and the reparations commission. It has been thought wise not to urge the Washington government to enter these bodies until after May 12, when the results of the present decision of the supreme council have been seen. No formal action in this regard has been taken by the council, but informally the representatives of the various governments have interchanged this view.

Text of Hughes' Reply to Germany

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The German reparations counter proposals are unacceptable as a basis for discussion, Secretary Hughes informed Dr. Simons, the German foreign minister, in a note last night.

The secretary at the same time urged the German government to make further proposals directly to the allied governments. He also expressed again the earnest desire of the American government for a prompt settlement of "this vital question."

The text of Secretary Hughes' communication, which was dispatched to Loring Dresel, the American high commissioner in Berlin, follows:

"The government of the United States must be invited to send a representative to the supreme council, the council of ambassadors meeting regularly in Paris, and the reparations commission. It has been thought wise not to urge the Washington government to enter these bodies until after May 12, when the results of the present decision of the supreme council have been seen. No formal action in this regard has been taken by the council, but informally the representatives of the various governments have interchanged this view."

Start War On Garden Pests

WOOSTER, O., May 3.—Garden slugs have increased to a point where they are causing heavy loss, says a bulletin of the Ohio Experiment Station.

Dusting plants with calcium arsenate and Bordeaux powder, will act as a repellent, the bulletin said.

There will be many grub worms this year. Farmers, in plowing, report large numbers of grubs, similar to the heavy infestation of three years ago.

An outbreak of grub worms occurs every three years, according to H. A. Gossard, entomologist at the station.

The most destructive stage comes in the second and third years when the grub feeds heavily, prior to passing into the beetle stage, he said.

No successful control has been worked out for grubs, but boys turned into a field usually will root them out, Gossard said.

SIX KILLED, THIRTY INJURED IN N. & W. WRECK

WRECK, W. Va., May 2.—Six persons were killed and 30 others were injured yesterday afternoon on the Norfolk and Western when their 19A passenger train ran through an open switch while the city limits and crashed into a train of loaded coal cars.

The two passenger trains were derailed.

THE DEAD

RICHARDO QUINTERO, resident of Richmond.

An unidentified white woman.

Lawrence Harris, North, Baltimore, West Virginia.

When information of the wreck reached the West Virginia railroad, the Norfolk and Western, the train was stopped at the scene and the injured, including many women and children, were taken to that location. Immediately all passengers on the train were residents of this section.

J. T. Carey, superintendent of the Western division of the Norfolk and Western railroad, went to the scene of the disaster on the special train which left Norfolk, immediately on receipt of the news, accompanied by W. O. Franklin, superintendent of the Potomac division.

James O'Connell, Baltimore, from Martinsburg, head of the Norfolk and Western, said that the train was on the open switch, applied the brakes, but was in time to prevent the collision. Powell jumped and escaped with minor injuries. Railroad officials say a third grade will be started immediately to determine the responsibility for the wreck being left open.

POLICE SAY LESTER ADMITS HE TOOK PART IN ST. LOUIS ROBBERY; 1 MAN KILLED IN GUN PLAY

BRIDGE CONTRACT IS AWARDED

IRONTON, May 2.—At a meeting of the directors of the Iron-Clad Bridge Co. held Monday evening, the contract with the Wisconsin Bridge Co. for building of the bridge at a contract price of $99,000 was unanimously approved as passed upon by attorneys Johnson & Jones and L. E. Andrews and was signed with the approval of the entire body.

The company received a message from Commissioner Porter yesterday stating that the bridge measure had passed by the house and that Senator Willis would see it through the senate.

The contract calls for the payment of the work according to estimates as the construction proceeds, and at least the bridge company is to deposit $100,000 in Liberty bonds with a local bank.

The next step is the issuance of the war department and while some time will necessarily be consumed in this matter, no difficulty is expected.

It happened that the police made a special capture last Friday when they took into custody a man after the escape of Edward Lester of the Blue Horse and looked up at the city hall for investigation.

Edward Lester, known by the police as Lester, who has a long record of crime, in connection with the last robbery in the Norfolk City, led to the arrest of the man after it was noticed that he resembled the description of the bandit given in the papers.

BEWARE OF WEST SIDE ROAD

Accidents are warned to avoid the West Side road between the Tremper farm and Bushman. Persons having business at Bushman will avoid considerable trouble by going by the way of Locustville. Contractor Arthur Shapson who is making very, very close headway with the road improvement has an alleged danger that is more of an angle trap than anything else. Persons who find it necessary to use the detour should pass during on and secure a team of horses before hand. The detour is not of any great length and could be easily put in a passable shape.

The bridge company has already established an office in the Goldsmyr building at Fourth and Center.

The prisoner, previously described as being wanted at St. Louis or anywhere else for a long time, was captured and admitted he was the man wanted, the police say. He told Chief Dyer of a gun battle between the St. Louis police and a gang of bandits of which he was a member and which a number of the participants on each side were wounded and killed. Lester said he was shot in the leg and was captured after being released.

EAGLES FREE DEBT ON HOME; PLAN FOR A BIG CELEBRATION

When the local Aeris of Eagles No. 397 purchased the new building at Second and Court streets from the late H. S. Gimes in 1914 the indebtedness was $10,000. The police agreed to pay $1,000 annually on the bond.

That the investment was a splendid one is shown by the fact that this progressive fraternal organization has in the meantime "Henry Roth" one of the best of all the boys and does not owe a penny on its splendid quarters. The last payment being made recently to Mrs. H. S. Gimes.

The result from the ground floor business rooms and the fact on the second floor is sufficient to keep the eagles on the ground floor. The police agreed to pay $1,000 annually on the bond.

Now that the building is free from debt the eagles will celebrate from 1921 to 1922. The celebration will be a grand affair and will include a parade, a banquet, and a fireworks display.

Officers of the Eagles, who worked so long to lift the burden of debt off their shoulders are Paul H. Brown, president; Max Caskey, vice president; W. J. Baker, secretary; and G. Lewis, treasurer. The trustees are John Lauffer, Henry Roth and W. O. Hill.

Cleveland Printing Industry Is Tied-Up

CLEVELAND, O., May 2.—Eight hundred printing pressmen and bookbinders went on strike this morning when their demands for a forty-four hour week were refused. The strike of men employed in the three crafts has up almost completely the printing industry here, as the printers themselves are on strike for the forty-four hour week.

Close to 2,000 of the 25,000 members of unions affiliated with the building trades council, who struck yesterday following the refusal of their demand for a renewal of the wage contract that expired May 1, were back at work today for independent contractors, according to Charles B. Smith, business agent of the council, who said independent contractors in all branches of the building trades signed agreements to continue the old wage scale for another year.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a boy 15 years of age and would like to get married, but my mother and father object, so what can I do? Is my writing all right? LEO L.

You had better respect your parents' wishes in the matter, and go to school a while longer. Your writing is fair, and may be improved along with your mind in the few years, before you may be old enough to marry, according to marriage laws.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please tell me how to soften the paint brushes so I can use them for other paint. HOUSEKEEPER.

Heat to a boiling point, some good kerosene, immerse the brushes and let them soak for a few minutes. Then wash out with strong soap suds. This will make them soft and pliable.

Miss Dolly Wise—I am a young man 30 years of age and was engaged to a girl of 20. I loved her as much as a person could and I think she did the same. I bought everything for our house. When the time came for our wedding, her mother sent her out of town and won't let her write to me. I am broken-hearted and don't know what to do. Please advise me. JOHN.

About the only thing a person can do, who has suffered utter disappointment, is to keep employed and try to keep your mind from it. If she cared for you in the way she seemed to, would certainly find a way to communicate with you, and would refuse to be influenced against you by others. Perhaps you could fit out an apartment and rent it furnished, or you may be able to return the things under the circumstances. Time and the facts will prove whether she was really the one person for you; anyway, there are plenty of other women in the world, and you will find some one else if you try.

Meet me at Nye's Fountain.

If Your Hair Is Thinning

Strengthening and enlarging the roots of the hair is one of the real secrets of forcing hair to grow. Something which has heretofore not been fully realized. Merely stimulating the scalp will not stimulate the hair growth to the extent desired. By the new method just mentioned hair can be forced to grow several inches a month. Hair will stop falling as if by magic. The new view of the hair will be quickly noticed, and all bald spots will be soon entirely filled out with new growth. This can all be easily obtained by the simple use of beta-quinol, the original one-ounce package. This can be mixed at home with a half pint of bay rum and a half pint of water, or with witch hazel, if you prefer. It contains no oil whatsoever.

To Have the Arm Pits Soft and Free from Hair

You can be sure that there is but one sensible way to remove hairs from the arm pits, and, in fact, from any part of the body. It is foolish to "burn" them off, injuring and spotting the skin. Just moisten the hairs with aforesaid solution. This will actually dissolve away the hairs completely, and leave the skin perfectly soft and smooth. It will not irritate the most delicate skin. Sufficient solution may be obtained at nearly any drug store.

Something Better Than Soap for a Head-Wash

As to head-wash, you are advised against using soap on the many shampoo sold, because the alkali they contain. This dries up hair secretions. Get a package of beta-quinol at any drug store and use a teaspoonful of it in half a cup of water. You can get enough for a year for ten cents for a dozen or more head washes. It is made in cleansing hair and scalp, and aids wonderfully in making hair grow.

Your Manners

It Is Correct

For a woman who desires to ask directions for reaching her destination, to do so of a policeman when one is near. This is safer than asking people on the street.

For a man who is crossing a busy street at the same time as an elderly lady who shows nervousness about crossing, to offer his assistance.

When a man and woman leave a taxi in rainy weather for him to step out, open the umbrella—if they have one—and hold it over her until she reaches shelter before paying and dismissing the driver.

It Is Not Correct

For a man to enter a taxi cab ahead of a woman. When there are more than one couple all the women should enter before the men.

When there are more than one couple in a taxi cab for any but the man nearest the right hand door to leave first if in doing so they must pass before a woman.

For a man to fail to assist a female companion into a taxi cab before giving directions to the driver.

For a man who takes a woman to her destination in a taxi cab, to assist her out and bid her farewell without actually going to her door with her.

BILLY WHISKER

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

"Hark!" whispered Billy, "what is that sound I hear? It sounds like some one sneaking along. For I thought I heard a twig crack and then all was still. If some one were coming, they had a right to come they would not stop at a twig crack, but come right on."

Presently they heard a stealthy step, another twig crack, and the outline of two men appeared creeping toward them. Billy Jr. jumped to one side just in time to dodge a lasso that was thrown by one of the men.

Stubbly backed and flew at the men, which attracted the attention of the men around the camp fire, who thought the dog had discovered a spy lurking near, and in a few minutes the pickets were in hot pursuit of the man who had tried to capture Billy Jr.

While all this commotion was going on, Billy Jr. and Stubbly thought it a good time to escape, so they took to their heels, and regardless of blows and stones ran as fast as they could until they were out of sight and hearing of the soldiers around the camp fire.

"I was dark and still with only now and then the cry of a nightbird to disturb the quietness."

When they had stopped running and came down to a walk, Stubbly said: "Billy, where do you expect to go first? Or haven't you laid any plans yet?"

"Yes, my plan is to get to the sea coast, and watch our chance to get on a vessel bound for America. If we can find one. If not, one bound for England. No more foreign countries for me. I am tired of hearing the people's gibberish. It is so dark I can't see any landmarks, so we might as well rest here until morning. We are far enough from the regiment now, for them not to find us. If we never come back the soldiers will think some of the Russians stole us. It will never occur to them that we would desert."

"They were just about to lie down when Stubbly said: 'Billy, I smell water. There must be some near here, and before I rest I am going to find it and bathe my feet.'"

"A good plan, Stubbly; and I, myself, would not mind a good cool drink after our long run. I will help you look for it."

"They commenced to sniff along the ground, stick their noses in the air and inhale the breeze from all directions. Shortly Billy Jr. said: 'The water is over there, for I feel more dampness on my nose when I point it in that direction than any other.'"

"They started away in the direction Billy thought the water was, and sure enough, in three minutes they came to a beautiful, clear narrow stream. Stubbly waded in immediately without waiting to drink, and as the cool water ran between his swollen toes he gave a sigh of relief for it stopped the burning sensation and washed away the blood."

After thoroughly cooling them he laid down by Billy Jr. and soon they were both fast asleep.

(In the next story the two friends continue their runaway journey.)

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE FIRST BREAKFAST

Towards the end of the breakfast Anne Phoebe was called into the dining room and formally introduced to Mrs. Randall, Jr. That redoubtable member of the family came snuffing in with her hands on her hips and a wide smile on her dusky countenance that fairly radiated kindness. One of the hands was thrust out in welcome to Cherry, and after the ceremony Aunt Phoebe suddenly gave a tragic groan. Then muttering, "It's clean forgotten them, honey," she disappeared from the room, to return a minute later bearing an enormous bouquet of varicolored roses in her hand, which she promptly extended to the smiling Cherry, explaining as she did so that she had picked them from her own garden that morning, and in the hurry of getting the breakfast had forgotten to bring them in with her.

"Aunt Phoebe, these are perfectly lovely," said Cherry as she buried her nose in the fragrant flowers, and united the colored look in appreciation of her thoughtfulness. "Won't you please put them into a vase, and I'll take them up to our room afterwards."

With another broad grin, and a flourish of her head, Aunt Phoebe went off to do as commissioned and the family proceeded with its breakfast.

"I hope you are not feeling too tired after your trip, Cherry," said Mrs. Randall, with an anxious look in her eyes. "For I have a very good idea that several of our friends and neighbors will be dropping in from time to time today to see you. You see, Edward was born and raised right here in the community, and naturally everyone is just dying to see his bride."

"But cher life they are," burst from Jack, darkly. "Specially that —"

Here he stopped abruptly, leaving the rest of his sentence to the imagination of his family, and turning a dull red as he caught his brother's eye fixed sternly upon him.

"I think that they are all specially," as you put it, Jack, dear, for Edward's marriage is the first one this summer. Then, too, the fact that he was not married from his own home has plighted the curiosity of all our friends considerably. You remember, Edward, how we used to plan weddings for every member of the community when you were a youngster? They were always to be from the old church here, and Mr. Meade was always to officiate. The funny part of it is, Cherry, that so regular is the life in Westburg, or rather should I say so loud-drum, that nearly all of the young people we know have done just that thing, with the exception of Edward. It speaks well for the community spirit, I think, don't you?"

"Community spirit, so long?" exclaimed Jack irreverently. "Who wants to get married in this burg, Jes cause every one has been married here and settled here, forever? When I get married I'm going to be in China, or the South Seas, or somewhere romantic. I am. And there'll be real music on real pipes or something, not that old organ that sounds like a wheezy cat on a cold night. No, sir! And no old maid is ever going to get up and sing 'The Voice That Breathed Our Eden' at my wedding. Not by a jug full. I'm sick of Westburg wedding's. Guess it's because I'm a man—and men jes got to have change in their lives. Skris is different."

"Come son, you promised to take Sister Cherry out to the garden—and I'm sure she would love to go now," said Mrs. Randall, busily changing the subject. And Cherry arose and followed her interesting young in-law out of the room, and went into the heart of the rose garden.

ASK your grocer why Valier's Enterprise Flour is used by so many housewives in spite of the fact that it costs more per sack than ordinary flour. He'll tell you it's because of its high quality. Then try a sack and you'll see what he means.

Valier's Enterprise Flour is milled from nothing but the white centers of carefully selected hard winter wheat. It's like cream from rich, Jersey milk. You can rely on it.

In addition Valier's Enterprise Flour is economical. It costs more to buy than ordinary flour but it goes further due to its high quality. You'll get at least four more loaves to the sack.

T. H. B. JONES HURT IN RUNAWAY

TRONTON, May 3.—Director of Public Service T. H. B. Jones while driving to town Monday from Howell's farm, near Hecla, was thrown to the hard road near Sulphur Springs and badly bruised and scratched. The wagon was overturned and run over Mr. Jones, injuring him severely about the body, arms and legs. He was brought to town in the Wilgus back, which was passing and given medical treatment.

But That's Habit.

Because a commuter rushes from the train in a hurry, giving the impression that his time is worth about $100 an hour, it does not follow that he will not spend fifteen minutes on his way to the office watching a gang of men laying pavement.—Boston Transcript.

Charm of Motherhood

THERE are many homes once childless that now are blessed with healthy, happy children, because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored the mother to a healthy, normal physical condition.

The following letters give the experience of two young women and prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

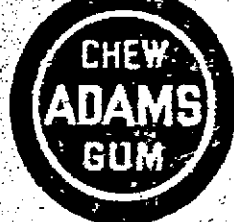

Chicago, Ill.—"I was always tired, my head always ached, and my back ached until I could hardly stand the pain. I doctored for years, and the doctor said nothing but an operation would help me, and that I could not have children. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles of it and it helped me wonderfully, and I now have a fine baby boy, thanks to what your medicine did for me in restoring my health. I can highly recommend the Compound to all women who suffer from female ills."—Mrs. W. N. REISS, 304 Willow St., Chicago, Ill.

Marquette, Wis.—"I was in a very nervous condition, was irregular, and could not have any children. I took doctor's medicine without success, and he advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon felt benefited by its use, became regular, and now we have a fine baby girl after having been married nine years. I am always glad to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends who suffer from such troubles."—Mrs. H. B. HEIN, 330 Jefferson St., Marquette, Wis.

"Play Institute" Is Success

The Play and Game Leaders' Institute opened last night at the high school gymnasium with a veritable riot of fun and frolic. People played whether they were sixteen or sixty and none hung back. One hundred and twenty-five attended the first session of which about a hundred joined in the games. Fifty-two persons enrolled for the rest of the institute. The high school gymnasium resounded with the joyous cries of people who went back for an evening to the happy days of childhood.

Prof. Frank Appel, chairman of the Portsmouth Leisure Time Committee, presided at last night's session of the institute. He introduced Fred Lover, president of the Seaside Gent. and Accompanist's Club, who led the students in four songs, accompanied by Miss Julia Arborgast of the same club. R. W. Winslow of Community Service gave the address of the evening on "The Public Recreation Movement in America."

Miss Jane Woodstock of Community Service then took charge of the program and gave instruction in the following games: Grand March introduction; Robber and Policeman; March the Handkerchief; Relay Ball; Relay Sit-Down Race; Virginia Reel. Miss Woodstock also spoke of the essentials of leadership.

The next meeting of the class will take place today at 4 p. m. (new time) at the high school gymnasium.

Mr. Winslow in his address last evening said in part:

Some of you friends and maybe some of you who are here this evening may have wondered why an institute like this is conducted. It may seem to you an isolated fact without relation to the broad current of American life. It may seem to you an interesting but experimental attempt at something that is not very clear. I wish to give you briefly a few facts that will, I think, make it clear why this institute in Portsmouth is a part of a general movement in the United States for better citizenship through the emphasis of play as a natural human instinct.

The national movement for emphasizing the importance of organized play began in 1900 with the formation of the Playground and Recreation Association of America in Washington. This association was founded with the purpose of procuring proper playgrounds for children in American cities and of securing adequate direction for these playgrounds. We are all familiar with conditions that have existed in the past. Children have not been encouraged to play in the home because they disturb the housewife at her work and the father at his rest. There have not been places where they could play other than the streets. Children have known that they must play and they have satisfied this instinct at great cost in adult discontent and in juvenile immorality. Both players to play and proper adult supervision over play are fundamental necessities in child life.

The Playground and Recreation Association of America can point in its 1920 Year Book to the following accomplishments in 15 years of existence:

4200 playgrounds or play centers in these cities.

10218 paid workers directing children's play in these centers.

51 American cities conducting training classes similar to these.

Volunteer workers generally used in addition to paid workers.

103,583 persons, children and adults, an average daily attendance during summer months.

337,633 persons, children and adults, an average daily attendance during winter months.

102,498 average evening attendance, other than in school buildings.

88,119 average evening attendance in school buildings used as recreation centers.

These figures will make clear to you that the public recreation movement in America is something real and tangible, something that has got beyond the experimental stage.

This movement which originated primarily for children has extended itself to include the needs of adults in the matter of play. It has been found that nothing is more definitely a recreation for adults than to return for a period to the simple muscular play and games of childhood. Not all adults are sufficiently skilled in activities to engage in them. All adults can engage in simple games. We thus see that the children have been in the position of teaching their elders how to play. The centers conducted in various American cities are more and more being made available to adults.

The institute is conducted for two general purposes to give the men and women of this city an idea of the pleasure that can be gotten out of simple inexpensive amusement and to develop as many volunteer leaders of children's play as possible.

Twenty-eight Ohio cities including Portsmouth have an organized playground system for children. All of these cities used as many volunteers as possible to help in the children's directed play. These playgrounds and play centers in these Ohio cities can be made to serve social purposes that children's necessities because they can be used by adults in many ways. In some cases such as this which have been conducted in many places in the United States have proved productive of an increased social life of healthy play.

These few remarks may serve to make clear that this institute is not an experiment that the idea of play for grown-ups is not an interesting and amusing fact but is a fact that has been demonstrated in many cities as it will the next two weeks be demonstrated in Portsmouth.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY AT HOLY REDEEMER

The beautiful and impressive ceremony of May Crowning at Holy Redeemer church, Sunday evening, was witnessed by one of the largest and most reverent congregations ever assembled within the fine church. The whole sanctuary was filled up with blooming dogwood which was festooned by two cedar ropes ornamented by the center of the ceremony was occupied by the beautiful statue of the Virgin, around which many potted plants and flowers were banded forming the shrine. An electric crown encircled the head of the statue, while at the feet of the statue was placed a luminous crescent moon. Three hundred children marched from the school hall into the church to the music of the church choir. The children presented an inspiring spectacle by their appropriate and reverent deportment. At a given signal the sunburst and shrine were beautifully illuminated which was enjoyed by all who had the pleasure of being present.

The three hundred children by their marching and counter-marching with military precision, vim and spirit, gave a charming and presentation of their floral offerings reflected great credit upon their teachers and themselves. Six little cherubs with budding wings, like birds of light, fresh from heaven, bearing the heavenly made crown of white roses, approached the shrine. Suddenly all eyes were riveted upon them and breathless stillness fell upon the large audience. One of these little cherubs, Ellsworth O'Connor, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Connor, had the high honor of crowning the statue. Well and gracefully did the tiny hands at the modest little maid perform her task duty. Immediately the floral crown was converted into a glorious crown of light. The Act of Consecration was then made by the school children.

After the Act of Consecration made by the young ladies' sodality, Miss Martha McQuirk sang sweetly a hymn in honor of the Virgin.

Acts of Consecration were made by representatives of the Altar and Rosary Society Mothers of the Parish, the Knights of Columbus and Catholic Foresters.

The pastor in his remarks substantially stressed the following explanation of St. Luke's exposition of the mystery of the Incarnation: "Naturally chosen by Divine Providence for staging the divine drama, suddenly became the second Paradise, wherein Jesus Christ and Mary, His Mother, became the chief actors in the Redemption of a race first fallen from grace through the sin of Adam in the Garden of Eden."

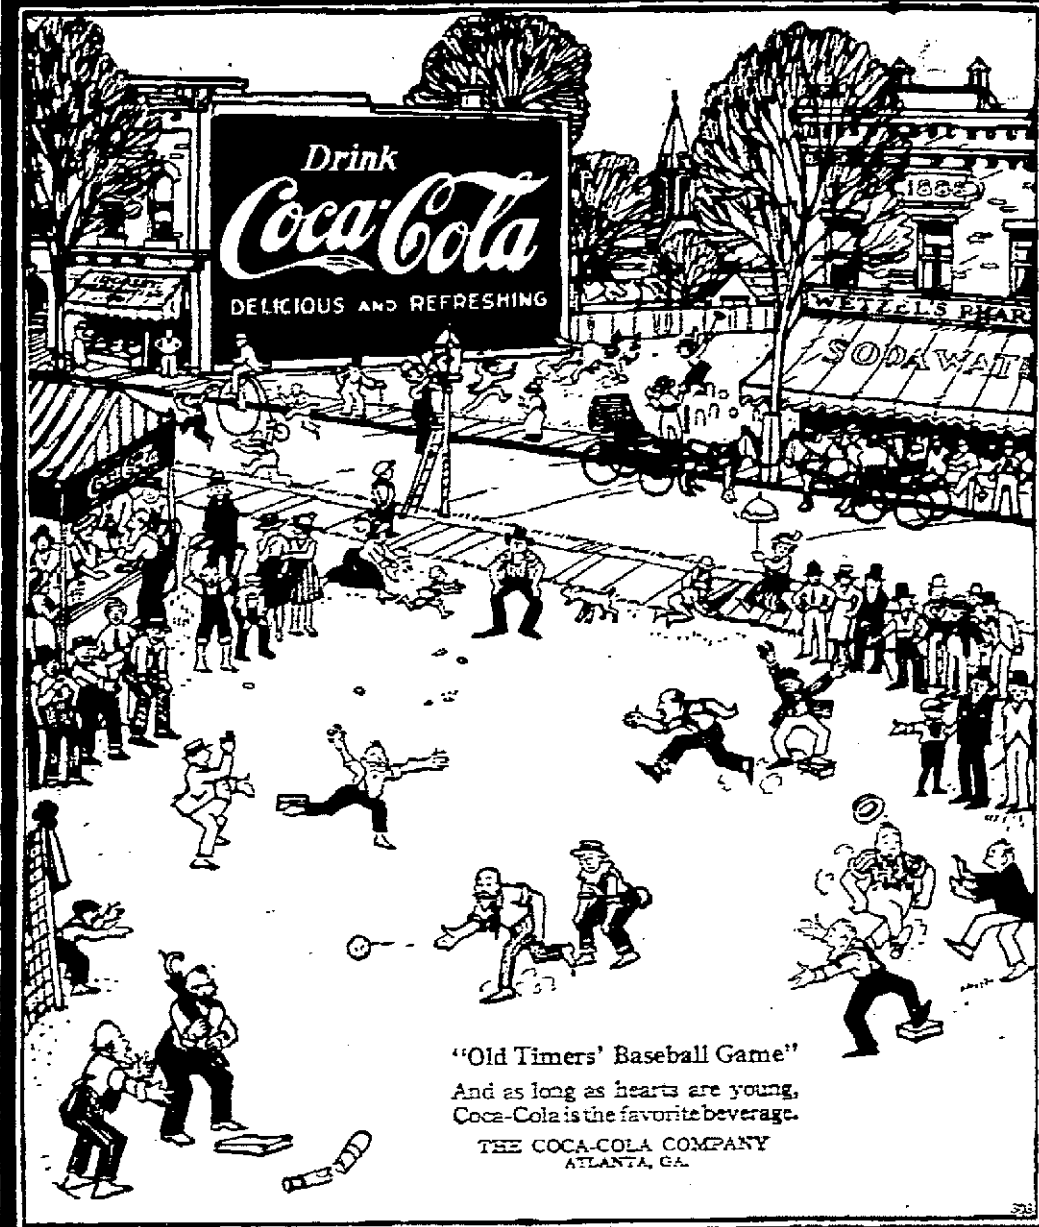

Behind the handmaid of the Lord, Mary, whose name is according to the apostle, "the mother of the church."

The incident Mary space these words in reply to the Angel Gabriel, who announced to Mary that by the power of the Holy Spirit she would conceive and bring forth Jesus Christ, that very moment and in that very place, the mystery of the Incarnation took place, by which Jesus Christ, the Son of God, became the Son of the Blessed Virgin, and the Blessed Virgin became the Mother of Jesus Christ. In this moment Nazareth became immortalized for all time. The chapel of Christ for its purity, integrity and purity centers in Jesus and Mary as the Divine Son, and the Divine Mother. For the Gospel as divine revelation cannot be made more private opinion, without denying the divinity of Christ, and the Divine Motherhood of Christ. As long as adoration is given to Jesus Christ as true God and veneration alone to Mary as the Mother of God, the divinity, sanctity and integrity of Christ's divinity is wholly preserved, and no indignity is offered to Christ's Mother.

Among the last words uttered by the Savior, dying upon the Cross, is the word, "Mother." In His last agony, which the Savior endured for the salvation of mankind He used His very last breath in one sublime act of filial affection. At the foot of His Cross Jesus beheld the woman who bore Him in her chaste womb, and whose joys gave Him such whereupon He cried out with His remaining power and love, "Mother." This word from that hour to this, filled heaven and earth with joy and stirred the demons and their lieutenants throughout the ages into greater madness and vengeance against Jesus Christ and the Mother of God.

"Mother behold thy Son: Son behold thy Mother," most blessed last will and testament of the Savior dying upon the Cross. Incarnate Love bequeathed to all men His own Mother to be their spiritual Mother. After Christ's sacrifice upon the Cross, who gift is more precious and beneficent to mankind? Yes indeed, the whole world is much indebted to the holy and wholesome influence of Mary as a spiritual Mother. Mary is made, indeed the mirror of the Christian womanhood: as maid, wife and mother. Mary, next to Christ, excels in the beautiful virtues of virginity, purity and modesty, without the practice of which, neither the human race, nor religion and morality, nor church, state, society, home or individual can long endure.

The world of men, whether good or bad, most exactly demands that womanhood, whether as sisters or sweethearts, as wives or mothers shall be pure as the driven snow. With Mary, the Mother of Jesus, set up as a perfect model of purity of body and mind, chastity and modesty, the world cannot become so corrupt as to pervert Mary, the Mother of Christ, being the model of true womanhood, the Catholic Church, during two thousand years has never failed to hold up her inspiring example before all her daughters. Their faithful and glorious imitation has won universal admiration and honor. They are the glory of their sex, the life of the church and state, the preservation and adornment of human society.

COURT HOUSE

Receivership Sought

Application for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the property of the defendant and for judgment in the sum of $1500 is sought through an action filed in Common Pleas court Tuesday by Arthur Crawford against Charles Chester Adams, former chiropractor with offices in the Masonic Temple.

In his petition filed through Attorney Russell K. McCurdy the plaintiff says that on April 6, 1921, on certain representations made to him by Adams he was induced to advance the defendant the sum of $1500 in cash and in addition he and his brother, Manfred Crawford executed two notes for $750 each in favor of the defendant. At the time of paying the money and executing the notes the plaintiff claims Adams represented that he had funds in the bank in the sum of $4000, that all his office equipment and furniture was fully paid for except one x-ray machine on the purchase price of which he claimed he had paid $1500; that he was skilled in Chiropractic science and drugless healing and that he would instruct plaintiff and his brother and make them proficient in the science, promising to give them one-half of the net proceeds of the business which he agreed to continue, in consideration of the advance of the $2000 he alleges.

Crawford then declares that upon ascertaining that Adams has no such sum of money in bank and that the office equipment and furniture in his office was not paid for, he demanded the return of the money advanced and the notes and says the notes were given back but asserts the defendant has failed to return any part of the cash, besides, he complains, Adams failed to give him or his brother any instruction in the science as promised and only gave them $20 of the income from the business.

Alleges Neglect

Alleging neglect and infidelity, Sylvia McGinnis, East Portsmouth, seeks a divorce and alimony with custody of their infant child in a suit instituted in Common Pleas court Tuesday against James McGinnis, last worker, of this city, whom she married April 7, 1917.

In her petition filed through Attorney George W. Sheppard the plaintiff alleges that McGinnis has failed to provide for her and her child and says that she has been compelled to work to support herself. She further claims that the defendant is chummy with other women and asserts that he has declared that he would not live with her and if he did he would murder her.

Wife Seeks Divorce

Alma Frazier, 2530 Rhodes avenue, New Boston, charges neglect, cruelty and infidelity in her suit for divorce and alimony with custody of their minor children, in a suit filed in Common Pleas court Tuesday against Arthur Frazier, of Walnut street, East Portsmouth whom she married at Catlettsburg, Ky., Nov. 28, 1909.

In her petition filed through Attorney George W. Sheppard the plaintiff complains that Frazier has repeatedly cursed and abused her and asserts that for more than five years he has failed and refused to support her and their three children, besides, she claims he has been guilty of improper associations with other women and names as Amanda Moore, of Akron, as co-respondent. The plaintiff further says that by reason of his conduct toward her she was compelled and did separate from him in June 1918.

More Attachment Proceedings

Two additional suits in attachment, further tying up the office equipment of Dr. C. C. Adams, chiropractor, in the Masonic Temple, were filed in Municipal court Tuesday. Attorney W. L. Men find, as they look back, that it was in the solving the HARD problems that they developed the ability to handle the BIG JOB that came their way later. If you haven't learned the habit of SAYING you won't be able to handle ANY KIND of a job when the OPPORTUNITY presents itself.

DRY DETECTIVE IS ARRESTED IN IRONTON ON INTOXICATION CHARGE

IRONTON, May 3.—William Stanton, a dry detective, one of the principals in the raid on moonshine makers and liquor sellers on Saturday morning, was arrested on a charge of intoxication, and when searched at the police station, a revolver was found in his possession, so his right to carry a revolver will be investigated and determined. The arrest of Stanton was accomplished at about 8 o'clock Sunday night, by Captain John Cramer, Patrolman Barney Smith and Jim Brannigan, and he was released at about midnight Sunday night, to await his hearing before Mayor Collett Tuesday. The telephone complaints, stated that Stanton was flourishing a revolver and acting in a disorderly manner in the northside. Stanton claims that he went to Red Sloan's house, on instructions of the republicans, on the case with him, and with the knowledge of the county officials to gather more evidence in the liquor cases. He said that while there he took a drink that was "doped" and knocked him out, causing his arrest. The police authorities claim that they, within the past week have uncovered five times as much illicit liquor and material as that developed in the raid of Saturday, though they co-operated heartily with the operators and gave them much valuable information and helped to uncover much of the evidence in several of the places raided.

Plan To Stop Betting On Races

CLEVELAND, O., May 3.—Fifty armed deputies recruited by Mayor George L. Burton, of Chagrin Falls, left here for the Chagrin Falls race track this morning for the purpose of preventing betting on the running track races which start there this afternoon. Hostile actions on the part of some residents of Chagrin Falls favorable to the sport, which resulted in the "eggging" of deputies Sunday, led Mayor Burton to order his men to come armed. Officials of the race track insisted this morning they expected to follow the usual policy in regard to placing wagers, through the pari mutuels machines, and that they had the law behind them.

How About Putting Some Of The Team Outside The Fences?

BOSTON, May 3.—Infielders of the Boston Red Sox think that Babe Ruth's hitting can be cut down. To this end they have worked out a defensive scheme of play that proved effective yesterday. The development, said to have been conceived by Stuffy McInnis, puts all the infielders back on the grass beyond the diamond. The third baseman plays a bit to the right of his usual position. The shortstop is almost back to second base and the second and first basemen play what is virtually a short right field. The pitcher is assigned to cover first base. In its first test yesterday the scheme showed results as follows: First time up, Ruth hit hard to the right of second base. Pratt's position made possible a stop and throw that caught the runner. The next time Ruth struck out, but on his third turn at bat this new defense was tried again. Catching a low curve with a hard swing, Ruth smashed the ball toward right field. McInnis, from his deep position, swung across to make a sensational stop, backhanded, and containing his dash beat Ruth by sliding for first base. Finding it impossible to pass the reeled infield, Ruth on his fourth time up, cracked another low curve into the right field bleachers for his sixth HOME RUN of the season and his only hit of the game.

SERVICES HELD AT INFIRMARY

A great spiritual wave has struck the infirmaries in the past few weeks. Several of the inmates becoming Christians under the directions of the Salvation Army.

The noble chaplain and his army of helpers have brought gladness to several souls, who were lost in sin. We only trust that their work may continue to bless this big home and those who so tenderly watch over those who are there. We are so thankful for the Christian influence that is taught daily by those who have charge of this institution and truly we can say that the good seed has fallen into fertile ground, this being the minds and hearts of men who have spent all of their best part of life in sin. We trust that their last days shall be happy in the service of our Master. We trust that God's Spirit may tenderly watch over those who are out of the fold and are unassured in this institution, especially those who are very, very old. May they be brought back to the fold before it is too late.

Love Your Wife And Buy Her A Hoover

If the husband had to do the house work and wrestle with a broom or a heavy-moving hand power Vacuum sweeper, he'd kick the whole capoodle out and have an electric driven Hoover cleaner about the second day.

Wives and mothers are such patient folks, seldom complaining about the things with which they keep house, but always quietly hoping for the time when they feel they can spare the necessary money from the household expenses with which to buy an Electric Hoover sweeper.

Many a wife and mother is doing without a Hoover sweeper today through the oversight of husband or son. Suppose you investigate, Mr. Husband, and see just how hard the "Missus" has to work to get her carpet and rugs cleaned.

Remember, that with a Hoover sweeper, rugs and carpets need never be taken from the floor. There is no dust raised in sweeping and there are no rugs to be dragged out on the line each spring and fall to have the dust beaten out of them.

We have a special representative from the Hoover Co. with us and he will gladly bring a machine to your home and show you how it works on your own rugs and carpets.

If you have a Hoover and it needs any adjustments or repairs, our Hoover expert will be glad to give you an estimate on repairs needed.
